THE JOHNSTOWN DISASTER.

The news of the awful havoc wrought by the bursting of a canal reservoir at Johnstown, Pa., is heartrending. The number of lives lost is now estimated to be many hundreds. The ghastly sight of scores of bodies whirling through the raging waters is sickening to contemplate.

A populous and thriving town of yesterday is to-day devastated by flood and a large part of its population swallowed up in the sweeping current and its property destroyed.

That the loss of life in the flooded district is great there can be no doubt, but let us hope that later and fuller reports will somewhat mitigate the appalling proportions of the disaster.

THE MOORE AND THE MAN.

Rev. John T. Hoover was dismissed from the pastorate of the North New York Reformed Church last evening for "contumacious and lying." This is not a good certificate for a clergyman to bear.

In connection with the action of the Classis the deposed pastor made use of the following remarkable language: "If my son grows up to be a mouse I will send him to a theological seminary and make him a minister, but if he grows up to be a man I shall make a newspaper reporter out of him."

This sizing up of himself as a mouse seems to accord very well with the opinion of his congregation. Mice are pests which it is a pleasure to drive out of a building.

But all ministers are not mice, and the ex-reverend gentleman need not flatter himself that he is a fair representation of that class. The compliment to the news-gatherers of the press would be much more highly prized if it emanated from a higher source.

WANTED, A VETERAN'S DIRECTORY.

Commissioner Gilroy has run afoul of another veteran snag in his war upon what he calls sinecures. The dejected warrior rushes to the courts to have his legal rights maintained.

These episodes must be embarrassing to the Commissioner, and before subjecting himself to any more humiliation in being obliged to reinstate those whom he has dismissed, he ought to have a veterans' directory compiled.

Nothing can be more disagreeable to an official than to be obliged to reverse himself. The proper way is to be sure you are right before going ahead.

IT WILL NOT DO.

Inspectors of Excise are supposed to exist as a salutary check upon the dealers in liquor. If they are of any benefit to the city they must not be in collusion with those whom they are bound to supervise.

There is a painful rumor that the appointment of these inspectors is to be given over to the liquor dealers. This will not do. If it shall prove a veritable outrage public sentiment will visit its wrath upon those responsible for the flagrant offense.

GOOD RIDDANCE.

Aside from the merits of the controversy of the rival "Ticker" companies, because of which the Stock Exchange has cut out the wires of both from the Exchange, the consequent destruction of the "Bucket-Shops" will not be mourned.

Mysterious Midnight Assaults Explained in the SUNDAY WORLD.

WORLDLINGS.

There are said to be 15,000 typewriters employed in Chicago, 99 per cent. of whom are stenographers. Over 75 per cent. of them are women.

Queen Victoria's autograph is a rare sight in America, but there is one in the Public Library of Chicago. It appears on the fly-leaf of a richly gilded bound copy of the "Life of the Prince Consort," which was presented to the library by the distinguished authoress, with her compliments.

Judge Lambert Tree, late Minister to Russia, says that the czar is "a charming man and a very handsome man. He is a man of great stature, a splendid-looking man."

Mrs. Emma Peterson Childs, wife of the Philadelphia editor, is a pretty brunette, of petite figure, with black eyes and long and glossy hair. She is considered one of the best dressed women in Philadelphia.

Capt. Grant Dines His Men.

Pollie Capt. Donald Grant, of the Sixth-seventh regiment, was so well pleased at the appearance of his men at the parade yesterday that he gave them a dinner at Herman's Hotel, after the parade was finished. For two hours the men feasted and made merry, the Captain, in a most complimentary manner, the Captain, in a most complimentary manner, the Captain, in a most complimentary manner.

ATHLETIC EVENTS TO-DAY.

TWO IMPORTANT MEETINGS AND RECORD-BREAKING LOOKED FOR.

Griffin's Easy Victory Over Havlin a Great Surprise—Another Yacht Race at Larchmont To-Day—Jack Delaney and Tommy Myers Matched—The Horsham Athletic Club's Exhibition To-Night.

The two big athletic events to-day are the Eastern championship meeting of the A. A. U. at Berkeley Oval and the Manhattan Athletic Club games at the Club's grounds. Great interest centres in the Eastern championship meeting. If the track happens to be in good condition some record-breaking might be looked for. Sprinter Sherrill, of Yale, and Lee H. Gray, will make the 100-yard event interesting for Mapes, of Columbia. Sherrill, the great broad-jumper of the colleges, is entered in the broad and high jumps. Willie Day, who is said to have given up after three laps Memorial Day at Bergen Point, not only because he was over-trained, but so that he could save himself for to-day's meeting, will attempt to lower E. C. Carter's three-mile record. The half-mile race between Dohm, of Princeton, and Downes, of Harvard, is looked forward to with high expectations. Champion Shot-Putter George H. Gray will meet Mitchell, Coudon and Queckbarn.

The ease with which Johnny Griffin defeated Jack Havlin last night at the Bay State Club, Boston, caused considerable surprise and made a good deal of money change hands, for Havlin was the favorite. The glove contest only lasted four rounds, and Griffin started this his own way in the first round by a tremendous swing on Havlin's jaw. In the second round Griffin forced Havlin through the ropes by a left and right hand attack, which weakened Havlin so much that Havlin was forced to use clinching tactics in the fourth until Griffin shook himself clear and landed a terrific blow on Griffin's ear which caused him to put his horse de combat. Griffin weighed in at 119 and Havlin at 117½ pounds.

As was generally expected in the East, Jim Corbett, the boxing instructor of the Olympic Athletic Club, San Francisco, proved too much for the Pole, Choyinski. The men met Memorial Day in an old barn near San Mateo, Cal., in a four-round fight for $1,000. There was $25,000 bet by interested parties. Corbett was the aggressor throughout the four rounds. The Sheriff stopped the fight in the fifth, when Corbett had reduced the Pole to a mere chopping block. It is not likely the men will meet again, as Choyinski proved conclusively that he was no match for Corbett. Betting in California was in Choyinski's favor.

Philadelphia critics are enthusiastic over Sullivan's neck, chest, back and arms, but lack on his "punch" and "windmill" legs, as they designate those portions of his anatomy.

There promises to be another grand yacht race at Larchmont this afternoon. Some very fast 40 and 50 footers are entered, besides lesser water-skimmers, to the number of about forty, all told.

Billy Madden, Jack McAuliffe's diplomatic manager, thinks there would be barrels of money in a ten-round glove contest in public between the famous light-weight and Billy Myers. But Myers is hiding out for a finish fight. McAuliffe is perfectly willing to meet Myers to a finish if the California Athletic Club will award a purse, which there is no doubt it will do.

Jack Delaney has at last succeeded in making a match. Tommy Myers, of Boston, will be the chief point of his nimble fists in a finish fight, to occur within four weeks.

Jack Lyons may be willing to match any 105-pound man in this city for money or a purse. Frank Donovan or J. Rose preferred. Frank Mullins is his backer.

Jack Grace, the Brooklyn feather-weight, will leave to-morrow night for Buffalo, to meet all comers during next week at a local theatre at 125 to 130 pounds.

The Hornbacker Athletic Club gives an exhibition to-night at its rooms in East Third street. The following prominent athletes will appear: J. Gorman and J. Oliver, McGraw and Hunter, Albe Friedland and Switzer, the Newbury, and John Miller, the "Spider."

YOUNG JACK SHEPPARDS.

TWO BOYS BREAK INTO A DISTILLERY AND GET DRUNK.

Two Jersey City boys were remanded for trial for burglary this morning by Justice Stillings. They were Peter Horn, of 104 Tenth street, and John Horn, of 75 Tenth street. Patsy is only twelve years old and Winifred about a year older.

They went to a theatre in Hoboken last night. On their way home they passed Wakenheim's distillery and wholesale liquor store on Pavonia avenue. The boys decided to break into the distillery and steal some of the liquor.

The older boy drew some whiskey from a barrel and drank all they could. Then they put two or three bottles of whiskey in their pockets and returned to the street.

The sidewalk reeled and tumbled under their feet. They could not walk.

Patrolmen lowered their eyes that way at 2 o'clock this morning, and found both boys lying in the gutter.

The boys did not sleep off the effects of the liquor, and when they appeared in police court this morning they were turned out by the parents of the boys, and the youngsters were taken to jail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

A Profitable Fine.
(From the Evening World.)

Smith—De Binks, why that satisfied smile? You don't look like a man who has just been fined $10 and sent for fast driving.

Binks—Why, man, alive, I just sold that old car of mine for $150 more than he was worth. Did it on the strength of the fine. Who wouldn't smile.

A Great Gain.
(From Harper's Bazar.)

"Do you find the ocean trip did you good?"

"Oh, indeed, yes! I gained fifty pounds."

"Yes, I struck a lucky number in the pilot pool."

From many sources THE EVENING WORLD's fund to provide a corps of free physicians for the sick children of the tenements during the hot summer season is receiving encouragement and support.

The cause is one which appeals to every humane man or woman, and even the children have had their little hearts touched in sympathy with their poor and invalid sisters and brothers and have sent in their tiny mites.

WALL STREET'S RESPONSE.
To-day Wall street lends its aid. Its brokers and bankers find time even in the busy whirl of that financial vortex to reach their hands into their pockets and give of their abundance for the sick children of the poor.

An EVENING WORLD reporter went into Wall street yesterday with a subscription list and brought the good cause to the notice of some of its prominent men.

At the office of Harvey Fisk & Son, in the Mutual Life Building, young Mr. Fisk was seen. "A very good thing—a very good thing," he said. "I wish it success. Put us down for $10."

At the office of Rowland & Co., of 34 Exchange street, and Decker, Howell & Co., William C. Rowland, at once gave $10 in the name of the firm for what he said was "a most praiseworthy object."

At the office of the firm of Unger, Smithers & Co., happened to be the first seen. "Yes," he said, "that's a very good plan indeed. I am very glad to give $10 towards it. Then he sat down and wrote out a check for that amount."

In the Mills Building high hearty responses were met with. Mr. Henry C. Lewis was busy, but not too busy to subscribe $10 with hearty good wishes for the success of THE EVENING WORLD's work, and Mr. John Seligman, senior partner of the well-known firm of J. & W. Seligman, at once gave $10 in the name of the firm for what he said was "a most praiseworthy object."

A Blessing on the Work.
Inclosed please find 50 cents for THE EVENING WORLD free physicians. God will bless you, for he has said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto me." I wish I had more to give.

A Father's Response.
I send you $2 to help the babies, with a wish that you will succeed beyond your fondest hopes in the babies' cause. I have a little one at home and my heart goes out to any of the little ones whose parents may not be as able to give them the attention they need.

THE JOKERS' IDLE HOURS.

PLEASANT WITICISMS CONCOCED FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

On the Piazza.
(From Tick.)

The principal novelty of the coming week will be "Andriell," a comic opera of which very little has been said, and of which, consequently, something may be expected. It will be presented Monday night at the Union Square Theatre, which house has been rented by J. A. Norris, the composer of the opera. Miss Louise Paulin will sing the principal female role, while the tenor will be Roy Stanton. Miss Lillian Brown (Mrs. J. A. Norris) and Mr. Walter Perkins will also be in the cast. The scenes of the opera are laid in the south of France in the year 1820.

At the Grand Opera-House Mr. James W. Morrissey's season of standard opera at popular prices will be begun Monday night, when the well-known "Martha" will be sung. Mr. Morrissey's enterprise did fair to be extremely successful. He had engaged Pauline L'Allemant, Emma Berger, Nina Bertini, Athalia Claret, Miss Russell, Frank Baxter, Sig. Enrico Duzeoni, Sig. Mairia and Sig. Tagliarini.

During the season "The Bohemian Girl," "Mazurka," "Faust" and "The Chimes of Normandy" will be sung.

Miss Rosina Voke's present bill at Daly's Theatre, which includes "Tears," "The Circus Rider," and "Ghosts Manor," will be continued until Thursday, when she will revive her old favorite, "The Girl of the Year." Her last week is as follows: Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and Saturday matinee, "The Girl of the Year"; Thursday, "The Girl of the Year"; Friday and Saturday, "The Girl of the Year"; Sunday, "The Girl of the Year."
